

THE HYPERVERSE... OUR WAY TO THE SOCIETY OF CREATION?
--

Keno Oneo in Conversation with Jochen Franck

Franck: You have written ("The Human Mind is on the Way to Co-Evolution") that our mind uses both the biological survival program and the evolutions of our culture to permanently optimize itself.

Keno: Yes: Ultimately, we qualify our Mind through Fear of Contingency ... Fear of the Unknown (often called "chaos"). This is a fear that we have experienced over several billion years ... according to Joseph LeDoux's thesis ... as a threat to our lives and thus also culturally encoded and compensated for.

Franck: On this basis, one of your theses states the following: Our cognitive intelligence, with which we develop that knowledge which we use for making our futures better, is no longer intelligent enough to be able to lead us successfully into the futures to come.

Keno: Yes, for the betterment of our futures we need a new kind of intelligence ... an intelligence capable of freeing our minds from the all-dominant (but for us mostly unconscious) Fear of Contingency.

Franck: So far, I have assumed that our culture (including science, art and media) will enable us to develop the Higher-Intelligence that is now required.

You now claim that our culture cannot do just that because it is ...

Keno: ... completely permeated ...

Franck: ... by our Fear of Contingency.

Keno: Yes, we cannot commit our established and elaborate system of fear to freeing us from our Basic-Fear.

Franck: If this is the case, then the question arises, which system could we use to be able to free ourselves from our own Basic-Fear ... spiritually ... mentally ... neuronally.

Keno: The answer is quite simple. But you will not be satisfied with it:

The Now of Creation will free us from our Basic-Fear.

Franck: This is indeed an answer that puzzles me. I'll tell you why: the Now of Creation is not a system. Culture, however, is a system. The Now of Creation is an abstract ... maybe just a word ... but culture is concrete ... culture is worldly ... but the Now of Creation is outside of our world. Culture is temporal, and we need time ...

Keno: ... more precisely, the arrow of time ... sorry! ...

Franck: ... to be able to form evolution. The Now of Creation may have a "now", but that "now" is outside of that time which we are instrumentalizing to drive our evolution forward.

Keno: Everything you say is correct from my point of view. The Now of Creation, which can be called is not a system ... is an abstract ... is not objectifiable ... is not worldly and is not in our "human time".

Franck: That's what I'm saying!

Keno: Yes, but if you say it differently, it becomes very concrete and efficient. Then it reads as follows:

- The Nagual-Is not yet a system.
- The Nagual-Is still an abstract.
- The Nagual-Is not yet objectifiable.
- The Nagual-Is not yet worldly.
- The Nagual-Is not yet in our time.

If we want to make this "not yet" the starting point of our discussion, the following question automatically arises:

What do we need to turn "not yet"
into "now it's here"?

Franck: Interesting perspective! So, what do we need?

Keno: Then we need the effect unit of Metaverse and Metabliss...

Franck: so, what you described as Hyperverses.

Keno: Yes:

The Hyperverses will be able to accomplish what culture cannot.

Our culture is based on theory, knowledge, strategy, cognition and rationality of meaning. We combine the following factors:

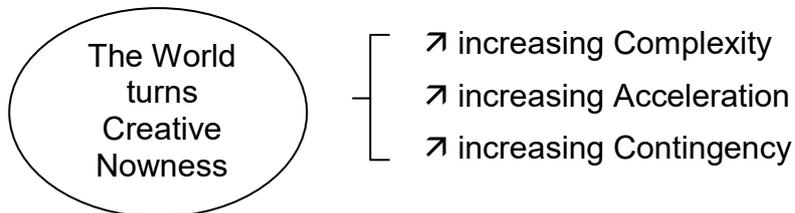

Our rationality of cognition and the growth of our intelligence transform ... compensatory, so to speak ... the threatening of contingency into a world that obeys us. In other words:

Our culture produces our "safe space."

Franck: Is this wrong? After all, it has made our minds ever more intelligent.

Keno: Yes, there's nothing wrong with that. The problem lies elsewhere:

- Because we are so intelligent and productive, a "man-made world" is emerging, characterized by the following symptoms of crisis:

- This means: Our own evolutive and mental fitness ensures that we ... equipped with our culturally elaborated Fear of Contingency ... are suddenly confronted with an even growing contingency:

- Our world is transforming into a contingent nowness.
- The present (our today) consists more and more of unplanned futures.
- Our Fear of Contingency knows that it cannot manage this modern and novel kind of contingency.

Franck: What is novel about this modern contingency?

Keno: The contingency that is now becoming more and more our everyday reality is creation ... more precisely, the Now of Creation.

One can express it in this way:

- With our evolutive and mental fitness we have called the Now of Creation into our worldly reality.
- We made sure that the Nagual became a co-creator of our world today.

Franck: This is unclear to me: How and why did we call the Nagual?

Keno: Our calling was twofold. Let's analyze the first calling:

- There is "autonoetic consciousness" (LeDoux). When our human mind reaches a certain level ... according to the theory of Noetic ..., this consciousness becomes active by itself. This means:

In our consciousness there is a mental representative of the Nagual.

Franck: Very speculative ... this thesis!

Keno: It seems speculative only because we don't experience this "autonoetic consciousness" consciously yet. But it is fully present, here and active ... but we exclude its being here.

Franck: You mean that we repress it ... because it is uneasy for us ... because it is interpreted as something negative?

Keno: No, not repressing it. It is really here, without being here.

Franck: I do not understand. So where is it?

Keno: It's in our I. In every second. And in every human being. It is here, but our Worldly-I is not embracing it. It is the Nagual-I ... the I of Creation in our I ... the proper I (higher self).

The 1st Defluence, which every child automatically accomplishes ... that is, the forming of the Worldly-I ... makes the world an objective reality. This means:

The Nagual-I is excluded from the reality of the world ...
from the Worldly-I.

Franck: Well, it is hidden in the Worldly-I ... in such a way that my I does not see it ...

Keno: ... that my I cannot embrace it and love it. In other words:

Our Love for the Worldly-I hides the Nagual-I.

So, it will be a matter of accomplishing a 2nd Defluence (e.g., in the 2nd phase of puberty), so that a love for the Nagual-I can unfold:

The 2nd Defluence organizes the person's love for the Nagual-I.

Everything that is currently critically discussed (and rejected) as "selfie narcissism" has its positive justification here:

The Teenager try to love their Worldly-I in such a way that the love for the Nagual-I can arise from it.

Franck: So that I understand: we need a 2nd Defluence ...

Keno: ... yes, defined as an objectification and identification of the Nagual-In the I-concept of the person ...

Franck: ... and what the teenager are doing with Instagram, Snap and TikTok is positive from your point of view, because they are rituals that open the Worldly-I ...

Keno: ... yes, open for the love of one's own Nagual-I.

Franck: And: is there something opening up? I mean: Do the Insta-teens find the way to their Nagual-I?

Keno: No. But something else is happening: Through the teenager's selfie rituals, the "autonoetic consciousness" is conditioned for cooperation, so to speak ... the selfie rituals thus couple the "autonoetic consciousness" to the seeking processes of the I.

Franck: What do these seeking processes seek?

Keno: As a formula ... they seek:

"It is good for the world that I exist."

They seek the truth of the Nagual-I: "It is good for the world."

Franck: In my words, the selfie rituals are the precursor to the 2nd Defluence.

Keno: Yes, very well put.

Let me summarize the first Calling of the Nagual Calling again:

- The Nagual-I requires the 2nd Defluence.
- Currently, however, there is no 2nd Defluence in our society.
- The teens are using social media to organize for this 2nd Defluence in some way ... the teens are the pioneers:

With every selfie (as photo / as video) the spiritual (morphic) field is strengthened, which in turn prepares for the coming 2nd Defluence.

- Only with the transition from social media to Metaverse (which is happening right now) is that technology and probability "born" through which this 2nd Defluence can be accomplished.

Franck: You must be referring to your "Metabliss" project, right?

Keno: Yes, Metabliss is a neuronal-intrinsic Technology. And the evocation of the Nagual-I is clearly an intrinsic process.

Franck: You mean virtual reality, augmentation, and immersion experiences are not intrinsic?

Keno: These are extrinsic experiences, designed to creatively expand the limitations of reality. Of course, VR, AR, and Immersive Reality have intrinsic and neural effects. Absolutely. But they are not capable of taking the Worldly-I "by the hand" and saying, "Now we're "going" together to your Nagual-I ... because that's waiting for you!"

What will happen ... probably quite soon ... is the following:

- The "autonoetic consciousness" merges with the I-consciousness of the teenager.
- Thereby something like a "pre-birth" of the Nagual-I takes place ... everything is not yet public-conscious ... but nevertheless effective.
- If one day the " Hyperverse" will exist ...

Franck: ... thus, the interaction of Metaverse and Metabliss ...

Keno: ... then this "pre-birth" will be the basis for the 2nd Defluence to succeed quite efficiently.

Franck: But Metaverse and Metabliss are not per se the system for this 2nd Defluence, are they?

Keno: Yes, they are.

Franck: I see. So, you claim that tech-companies from the USA are giving our society ...

Keno: ... to mankind ...

Franck: ... the system of the 2nd Defluence. Do I see this correctly?

Keno: Not quite. If one looks more closely, one recognizes the following:

The generation of the Millennials and the generation A are the originators of the coming 2nd Defluence.

Franck: So, the users ... not the big tech companies?

Keno: The tech companies are primarily the enablers. But the conditioning of "autonoetic consciousness" and in particular the coupling of that consciousness (acting as a facilitator of the Nagual) to the I-consciousness ... all that is not accomplished by the tech companies, but by the teenage generations.

Franck: Hence your frequently stated thesis:

"It's all about Teenager."

Is it?

Keno: Yes. From this perspective, the commitment of teenager to the climate ("Fridays for Future") can certainly be classified as a very important crisis signal. But with this climate commitment, we are definitely not accomplishing the birth of a Higher-Intelligence in terms of making our future better. That is:

The real, valuable achievement of the teen generation is the spiritual preparation for the 2nd Defluence.

Franck: Strange thesis!

Keno: Why?

Franck: Because the teenager did not or will not organize this departure to the 2nd Defluence consciously and purposefully.

Keno: Yes, it all happens quite clearly in the zone of emergence ... that is, where the human-evocative Spirit forms the next probable from the improbable ... the next better-becoming.

In fact, teenager have been doing what is called Co-Evolution for quite some time now ... but still relatively unconsciously:

Teens are already using digital and social media to develop Co-Evolutionary intelligence.

Perhaps you now understand why I so often shake my head when I observe the attacks of politics, NGOs, the media and intellectuals against GAFAM.

Franck: You mean the multiple regulatory orders of political power?

Keno: Yes. How stupid does one have to be to want to so clumsily block the current developments that are leading us to a practice of Co-Evolution? In other words:

- Basically, political power is organizing a power play against the interests of the coming generations.
- The fact that teenage generations are not yet consciously aware of how important and valuable their social media engagement is ... this fact alone gives political power the leeway to block Co-Evolution, which will lead our society to a new kind of intelligence.

Franck: Are you suggesting that political power is more or less consciously playing a destructive game here?

Keno: Yes. We are living in the phase of the Great-Quake. As I wrote in my essay, an enormously important epochal shift is currently taking place:

From the epoch of Fear of Contingency
to the Epoch of Courage.

From Fear to Courage. And the consequence of this is:

We will no longer organize our futures top-down, but Bottom-up.

On the horizon,
the democratization of the better spirit is emerging for the production of better futures.

I can understand that the top-down elite would like to block or cancel this development. It is understandable. But it is a failure to the teenage generations.

Franck: Don't you see it as too one-sided and crass?

Keno: I don't think so. Let me reason as follows:

- If the teenager organize the pre-birth of the 2nd Defluence (unconsciously), then it is their own right for this 2nd Defluence to become worldly present.
- If the coming teenage generations are deprived of the opportunity to establish their Nagual-I, these generations will be psychologically and mentally very damaged. Then, when the political-cultural elite increases the pressure for "more resilience" (which is already observable), the already active "autonoetic consciousness" will be repressed in its activities. What will be the result?

- We will not be able to develop that intelligent spirit which we need for Co-Evolution.
- We will not be able to use the coming creative newness of the world to our advantage: We will therefore become more and more victims of our own creativity and productivity.
- The result will be a society of conflict and division... and an exhausted and self-doubting democracy.

It follows:

- Everything that blocks the development of the 2nd Defluence should be prevented.
- All digital offensives that make a 2nd Defluence possible on a broad front should be consistently supported and promoted.

Franck: So ... promote Metaverses? Serious now?

Keno: Yes, of course. Comprehensively. And quickly. And if we can do that, we're already on the path that will lead us to the Hyperverse.

Franck: You have said that our way to the Hyperverse organizes itself as a kind of "calling". And in this context, you have stated that we as mankind are currently organizing this calling in two tracks.

If I interpret you correctly, the first calling is the calling of the Nagual-I ... and it is called by the teenager, right?

Keno: Yes.

Franck: And the second calling ... what is it?

Keno: It is what can best be explained by the generic term

WOKE.

So activist initiatives for developments, goals or ideals that are aligned with the Values of Interfusion.

Right now, some of the Woke categories (from classic feminism to diversity to anti-racism to cancel culture to post-colonialism to the rainbow of sexual orientations) are perhaps too overly radical ... but one thing is relatively certain:

The activism of the Woke pioneers is generating an intellectual-cultural field that will be able to combine Freedom with Unification.

That which is developing is what I call the "Post-Woke Values.

Franck: And what does that look like?

Keno: Let's look into this later. The following sketch gives a first answer:

You remember: Creation ... according to Pietschmann's statement ... is only given when differentiation is combined with unification.

And based on it:

Co-Evolution needs a new type of differentiation ...
a differentiation which fosters the common.

This, by the way, is also the basic principle of interfusion:

By the qualification of the differentiations, the power of the common becomes stronger.

Differentiations for progress (crossing), unifications for the growth of the We-ness (re-entry).

If one condenses the twofold calling to a scheme ... thus the integrating of the now of the creation into the now of our consciousness ..., then the following picture arises:

Franck: The teenager call their Nagual-I ...

Keno: ... yes, in the 2nd phase of adolescence, i.e., approx. between 16 to 24 years. This is the neuronal "time window" (Wolf Singer). The 2nd Defluence can only be accomplished in this relatively short period of time.

Franck: Hence your statement, "It's all about the Teenager."

Keno: Yes. If nothing happens during that neuronal time window that would enable the Worldly-I to unite with the Higher-I, the Nagual-I, the I of the newest generation will remain misprogrammed. This means that the Chain of all Generations cannot be established.

Franck: Is this a tragedy? My generation is doing pretty well without a "higher self". I don't miss my "higher self" at all.

Keno: Maybe. But we should take into account that we are already midst of a tremendous epochal transition:

from the Epoch of Fear of Contingency to the

Epoch of Courage for Contingency.

For this Courage for Contingency, we need an I that has found its sacred (Nagual) home. And we need neuronal dispositives that program the collective consciousness of our society to

We-ness through Unification.

Franck: I understand: we need a higher self. But why should it be exclusively teenager who are so important here?

Keno: Only in the adolescence period (about 12 - 24 years) the brain can accomplish those transformations that give the young person his identity. As a sketch:

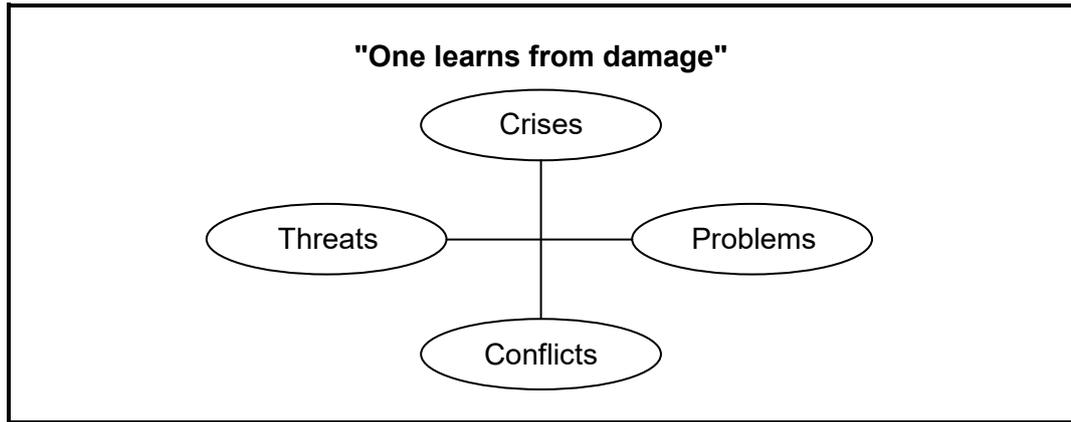

These are the fixed neuronal time windows. And they are biologically and genetically (i.e., also hormonally) conditioned that way. When the neuronal time windows close, nothing works anymore. There is no catch-up effect. Over is over.

This means: if one wants to organize a 2nd Defluence ... if possible, extensively ..., one needs Facebook, Instagram, Snap and TikTok ... i.e., social media for teenager and soon the Metaverses.

Specifically, if Teen Generation A ... born between 2000 and 2025 ... doesn't get offers and rituals for their 2nd Defluence, then we as a society will lose valuable 25 years.

If Generation A integrates itself into normal worldly life without a "higher self", they will build up neural "dispositive cards" in the phase of the dispositives ... i.e., between the ages of 24 and approx. 25. But no Cards, which are aligned to Interfusion and Woke-Values (We-ness). These Young Adults will thereby have no chance to develop and establish the 2nd Reality-Generator in their Mind.

If that happens, the old ... and actually long since ineffectual ... learning scheme of society will continue to set the tone. Here is this old scheme

With this scheme as a mind-card set, we will not be able to positively shape our futures 2 / 3. The already strong conflicts and divisions will increase. I am not sure if our democracies will remain.

Franck: Consequently, what we have discussed many times as the Chain of all Generations

is a mandatory prerequisite for a creative society that has a strong, i.e., solidary, democracy.

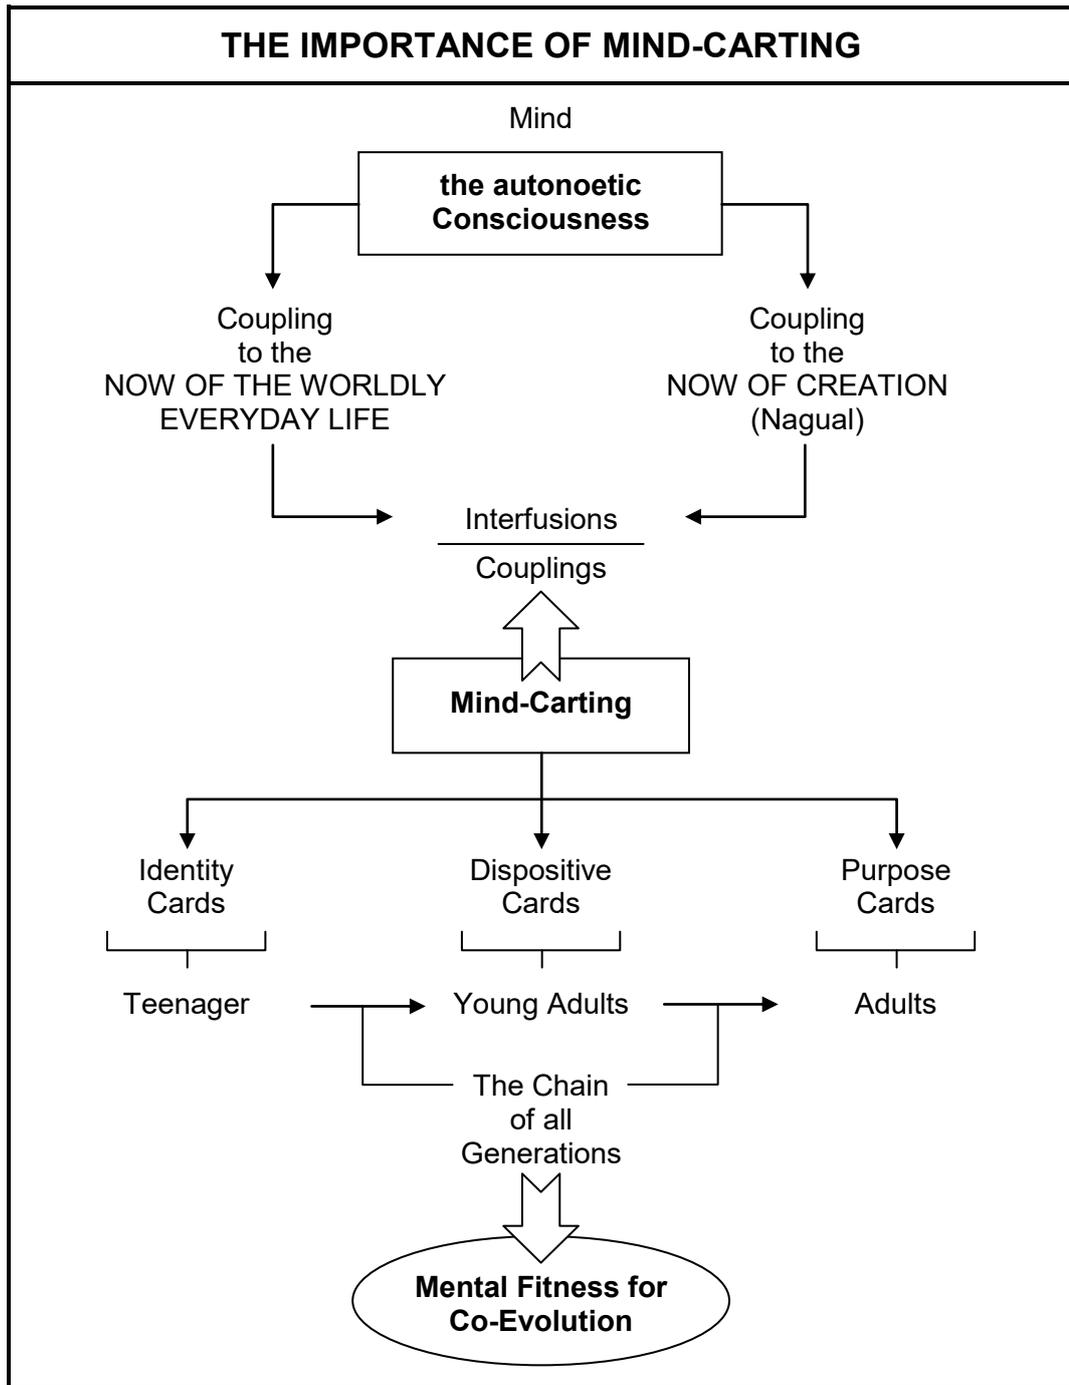

So far, I got it. But one question now arises: what can we do for older generations?

Keno: Providing help, support, foster. Help the teenager and young adults to establish the necessary mind cards at the appropriate time ... and do so consciously through digitality.

To put it bluntly: For this to happen, good books are completely useless. And also, the permanent talk about "reason" doesn't help at all.

Franck: So digitality as a system for Mind-Carting?

Keno: Yes. For the transition of the epochs, from the Fear of Contingency to the Courage for Contingency, we need very special Mind-Cards ... Mind-Cards that connect the auto-noetic consciousness twofold, which is now unfolding more and more in our human consciousness, ... with our everyday life and at the same time with the Now of Creation (Nagual). As a sketch:

Franck: For you, everything concerning the betterment of our future intelligence obviously stands and falls with that what you describe as Mind-Carting. Is it?

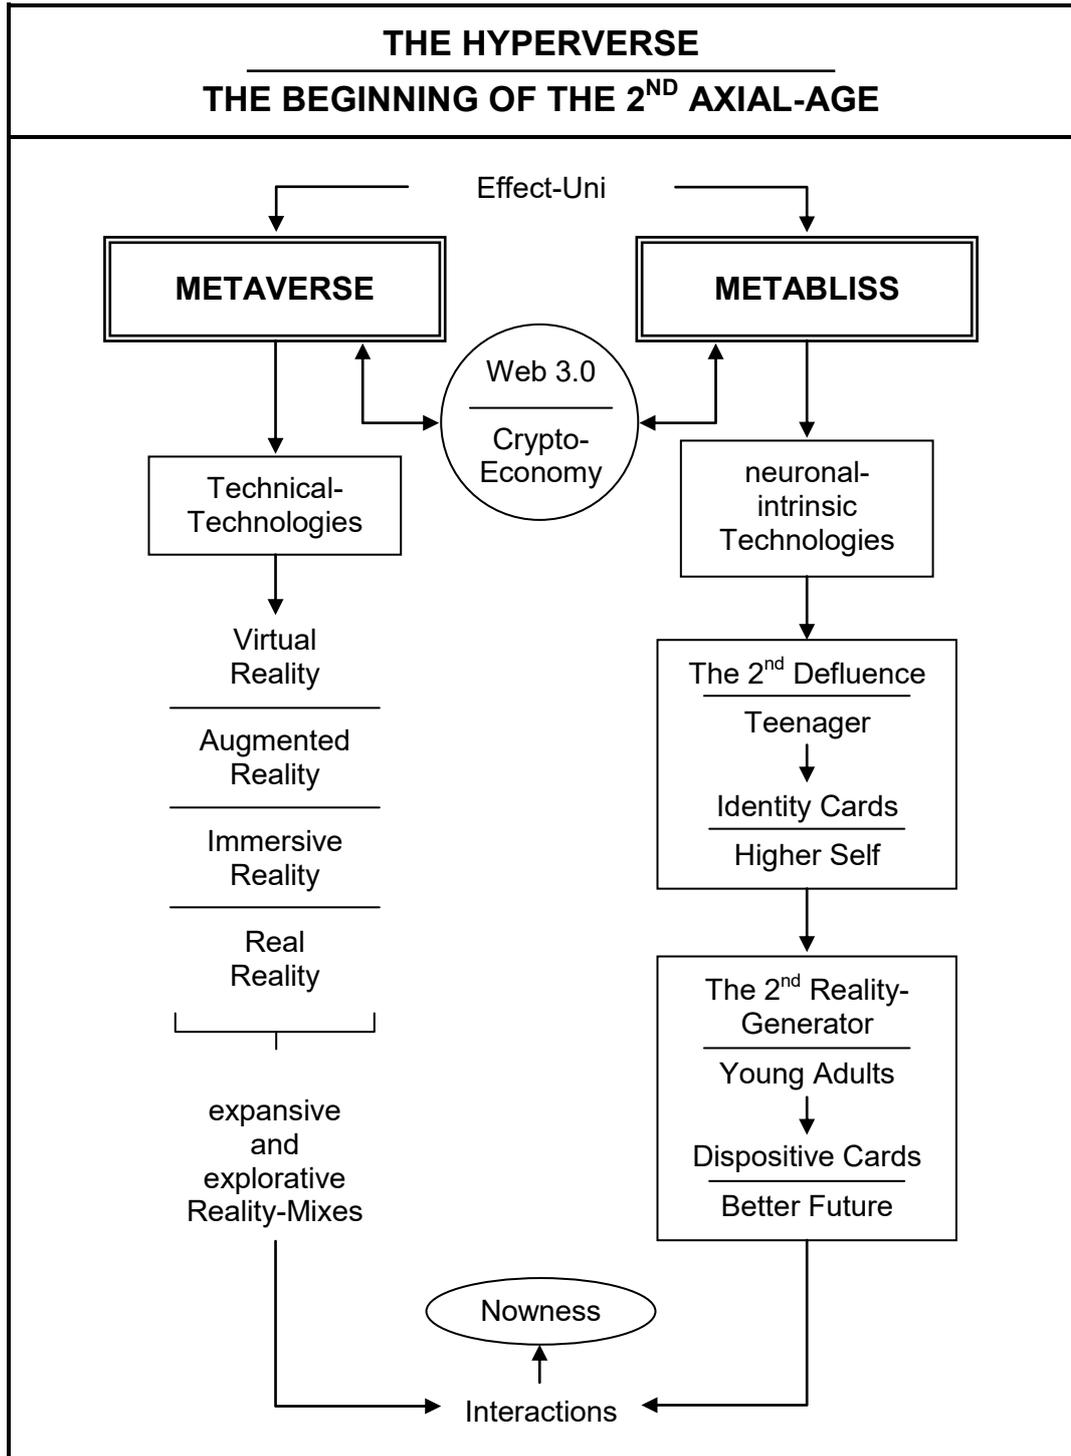

Keno: Yes. This is a very crucial point:

If we only establish Metaverses, there will be no Mind-Carting that can make our minds fit for Co-Evolution in the context of the "Chain of all Generations".

Metaverse is a technical technology. But we need in addition a neural, intrinsic technology ... i.e., Metabliss. Only then, when Metaverse and Metabliss interactively work together in a

Hyperverser

... only then we will shape and master the epochal change ahead of us in such a way that we can enter the beginning of the 2nd Axial-Age with courage and confidence. The following diagram describes this connection:

Franck: Are you absolutely certain that we as humanity are heading into a new Axial-Age?

Keno: Counter question: Are you certain that we are currently in a quasi-revolutionary epochal upheaval?

Franck: Oh, yes ... absolutely. I think everybody notices that. We are somehow forced to establish the spirit of becoming better in a more qualified way. The crises are forcing us to do that.

Keno: Good. We are somehow forced. I would like to make the "somehow" more concrete. Here is my suggestion:

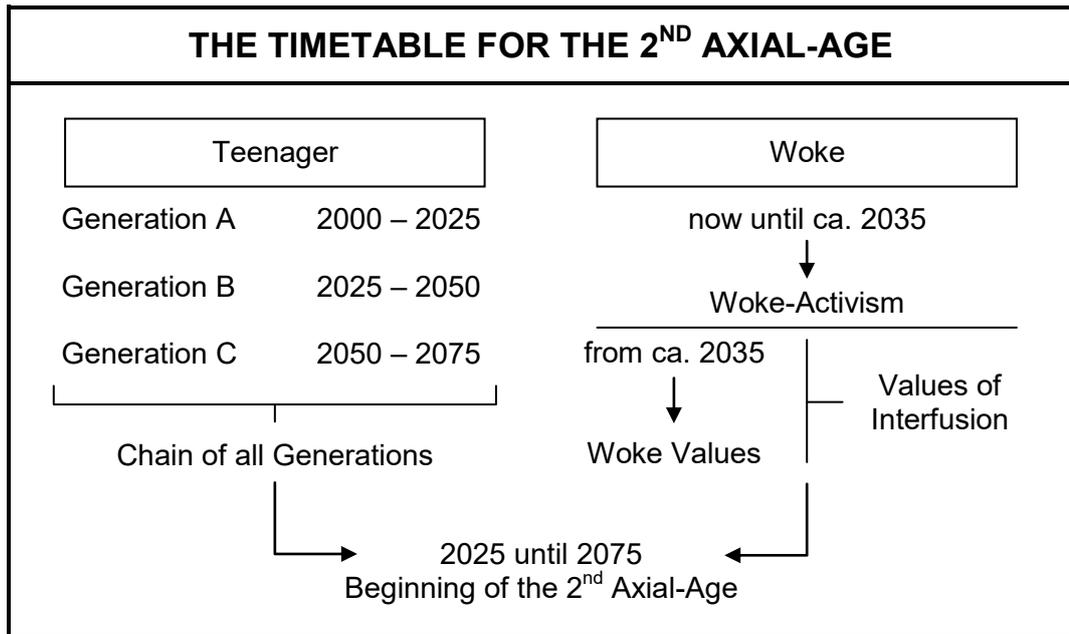

THE BEGINNING OF THE 2ND AXIAL-AGE
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The beginning does not succeed without a Hyperverse. • The beginning does not succeed without Metaverse plus Metabliss. • The beginning does not succeed without the Teenager. • The beginning does not succeed without the Pioneers and the Values of Woke.

Franck: Can we specify this a little bit in terms of time? When will we enter the 2nd Axial-Age?

Keno: Yes, that is an important point. My prediction is:

Between 2025 and 2075, the 2nd Axial-Age will begin.

The following overview substantiates this prediction:

Franck: Last question: During our conversations, you emphasized several times that there will only be something like an efficient Hyperverse if the interactions between Metaverse (Reality-Mixes) and Metabliss (Intrinsic Mind-Carting) have established themselves on a high standard.

Keno: Yes, and there will certainly be a lot of development work to be done until that happens. It will be exciting: Which tech company will pull it off? ... since there can only be one Hyperverse:

The one & only Hyperverse

Franck: Why is that?

Keno: There will certainly be, as I said, five to ten "Whole Life Metaverses" ... worldwide.

Franck: Yes, you stated that.

Keno: Now, if somebody just comes along and integrates Metabliss into Metaverse, and then if one neuronally and intrinsically conceives and designs the rituals of Metabliss in an efficient way, there will be this One-and-Only Effect.

Franck: Why?

Keno: As you know, Metabliss is focused on performing the 2nd Defluence. So, the Nagual-I (the Higher-I) arises in the Hyperverse.

In other words, the following magical essence is arising in the field of emergence that we talked about some time ago:

"The Sweetness of my Heart".

Franck: It is about the Nagual-I, but the essence refers to "my heart." Please explain.

Keno: The Nagual-I floats in Nagual Resonances. These kinds of Resonances awaken special Sentic Forms (Manfred Clynes) in what in Noetic is called "the third heart". This Sentic is what the word "sweetness" expresses.

The Nagual-I thus floats in the sweetness of Resonances caused by the Now of Creation, which are enjoyed as personal Nowness.

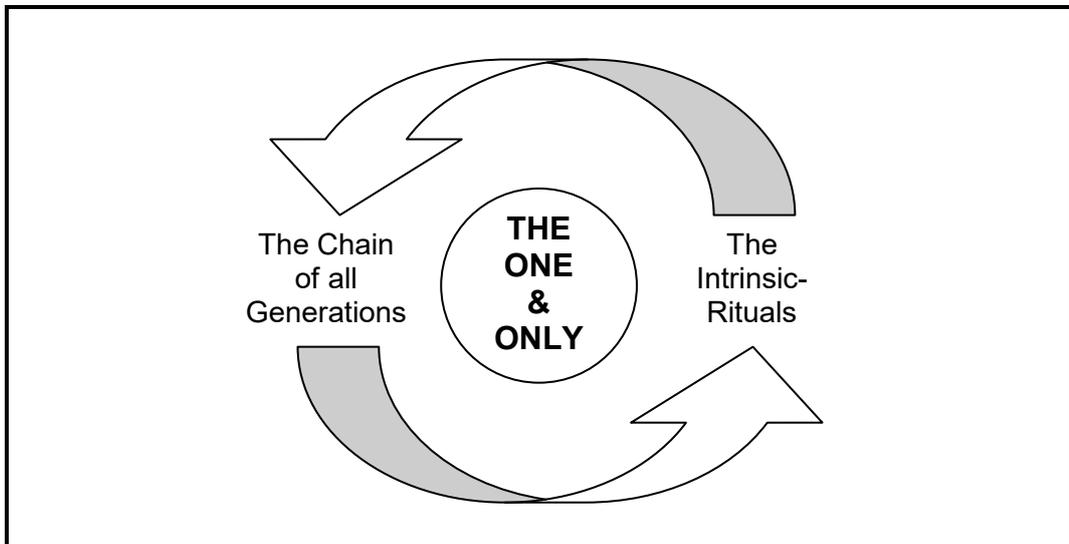

Let us go a step further. The rituals of Metabliss are focused further on building a 2nd Reality-Generator as a mind-card set. The magical essence for this is:

"The Home of my Life".

In addition, the rituals of Metabliss are very much centered on "Make the World a better Place", i.e., on the connection between Unification and the Future. The magic essence is:

"The Eternity of my I".

Digitality, which is also the basis of Metabliss, has the task of connecting two sectors in such a way that a unique and therefore inseparable connection is established between the Users and the Hyperverse. As a sketch:

The following overview describes the important aspects that lead to the One-and-Only Effect:
